Two new Canadian members for Relais & Châteaux

THE OTTAWA CITIZEN MARCH 6, 2010

Relais & Châteaux, a global group of about 500 individually owned luxury hotels and restaurants, has just released its 2010 guide, which includes two new Canadian properties: Trout Point Lodge in Nova Scotia, pictured below, and Sonora Resort, shown above, which is off Vancouver Island. The guide describes Trout Point, near East Kemptville on the Tusket River, as "the premier wilderness hotel in Atlantic Canada" and notes that its kitchen uses local seafood and produces its own cheeses and smoked salmon. It says Sonora Resort is "an absolute paradise for angling enthusiasts" and that "the enchantment begins during the transfer to the hotel, which is accessible only by sea and air." Those properties bring the total of Canadian Relais & Châteaux members to 15; others include Manoir Hovey in Quebec's Eastern Townships and Restaurant Toqué! in Montreal. You can order the guide online for $12 at www.relaischateaux.com/en/the-guide or download a free e-brochure.
